ICEWRAP

Frozen Hydrated Sheets Which Keep Product Cold During Shipment!

IceWrap is a lightweight blanket which, when hydrated and frozen, is used to keep products cold during shipment. The cells contain a super absorbent material, which when hydrated, produces a flexible gel that is trapped within individual pockets or cells, creating a flexible "quilted" pattern that is frozen prior to use.

- IceWrap is a flexible pad that provides a uniform, cold, temperature blanket around the product during shipment
- This improves the freshness of the product and reduces spoilage
- As the product is kept cold during shipment, the product weight loss is reduced
- Overnight shipping costs are reduced as the product will stay cold longer
- IceWrap's flexibility and wider product coverage area makes it an ideal replacement for gel packs
- IceWrap stays cold longer than wet ice and does not release fluids when thawed
- It is preferred by airlines and courier services to wet and dry ice
- IceWrap is also used for medical, laboratory and therapeutic applications such as sports injuries, arthritis etc.

The Company's IceWrap is used for shipping a variety of products including Fresh and Live Seafood, Fresh Meat and Poultry, Fresh-Cut Fruits and Vegetables and Fresh-Cut Flowers.

Frozen hydrated sheets which keep product cold during shipment!

HOW IT WORKS!

Highly Absorbent Cells are Built into the Back of the Sheet !

- Place a Dry IceWrap Sheet into a container of tap water
- Hydrate IceWrap for 10-20 minutes until pockets swell
- Drain any excess water from the sheet
- Place the IceWrap sheet in the freezer with the plastic side down until frozen for 8 to 12 hours
